Something for Everyone: Building a Well-rounded Extracurricular Program

This conference will be a valuable experience to your schools' extracurricular directors in both athletics and academics as well as any and all of your athletic and academic competition coaches. It will also benefit any counselors and faculty that work with students on character and community development. TCSAAL hopes all academic and athletic coaches and coordinators will be able to attend and TCSAAL would like to stress the importance and expectation that each TCSAAL participating school sends a representative to the conference.
